Each day the violation continues shall be considered a separate offense.

(b) Notification of suspension; procedures for appeal.

- (1) Contact by building inspector. Should a contractor be in danger of having their license suspended, the building inspector shall make personal contact with the licensee to discuss the issue. During this meeting, the licensee and the building inspector shall create a plan of action to mitigate the issues that could lead to the suspension of the license. The licensee shall have thirty (30) days to show that they are working in good faith to mitigate the issues. The building inspector shall monitor the progress of the licensee and submit a report to both the licensee and the community development director.
- (2) Contact by the community development department.
 - a. If the report states that the licensee is not working in good faith to mitigate the issues, the community development director shall send a certified letter, return receipt requested, to the licensee setting up a meeting between the director, the building inspector and the licensee and/or their representatives. The previous action plan will be discussed and the licensee will need to show why they were unsuccessful in carrying out that plan. A new action plan shall be worked out and signed by the director, the building inspector and the licensee. The licensee shall be placed on probationary status for thirty (30) days. During the probationary status, the licensee shall not be able to receive any permits for work at a new location. Permits required to continue or complete work on a project may be granted at the discretion of the building inspector in coordination with the community development director.

- b. Under the terms of the action plan, the building inspector shall monitor the progress of the licensee. At the end of the thirty (30) days, the building inspector will make a report on the progress of the licensee and forward that report to both the licensee and the community development director. If the licensee is making good progress, the probationary status may be lifted. However, the probationary status can be continued for no more than thirty (30) days at the discretion of the community development director with the recommendation of the building inspector.
 - c. Should the report from the building inspector show that minimal or no progress is being made on the action plan, the community development director shall suspend the contractor's license and notify the licensee by certified mail, return receipt requested. Any permits that the licensee has requested shall be pulled and all work being done by the licensee shall be stopped by the building inspector. While a license is suspended, a contractor, or his employees shall not contract, perform warranty work, repairs or other operations commonly associated with the contracting business. The licensee is required to meet with the community development director and the building inspector and satisfy all the requirements of the action plan before the licensee can resume work as a contractor in the city.
- (3) Exceptions. A contractor's license may be suspended without warning for failure to maintain the required insurance or for the destruction or damage of city property through willful or negligent action. Should that happen, the licensee shall be notified by the community development department through a certified letter, return receipt requested, and through personal contact by the building inspector. Once a license has been suspended, all work by the contractor within the city will be halted through the methods listed in subsection 7-126(b)(2).
- (4) Appeals. If a contractor believes that its license has been suspended without due cause, it can appeal to the city council. Council retains the right to overturn the suspension of a contractor's license.
